„ Answer Your Call “

Oh baby can't you see my heart is bleeding.
I don't know if you really understand.
Oh baby I am crying tears of feeling.
I don't know where to find a helping hand.

You should know that I still love you.
But I just can't take away what you did to me that day.

I, I am hearing the phone and I know you're alone.
But I, I can't answer your call.
Babe I just need some time, I will give you a line.
But now I can not answer your call.

You know that there were times when I believed you.
But within a second these times have changed.
There're raindrops on the paintings I have dreamed of.
I don't know if they wash away the pain.

You should know that I still love you.
But I just can't take away what you did to me that day.

I, I am hearing the phone and I know you're alone.
But I, I can't answer your call.
Babe I just need some time, I will give you a line.
But now I can not answer your call.
